REPORTS NINE HEALTH COUNTS

Eugene S. Sickles, borough health officer, today opened his drive against illegal garbage containers, announced last week, and this morning said that nine cases had already been reported to him. Action will be taken, he said.

The drive became necessary, Sickles said, because previous warnings had not been heeded by many persons. There will be no more warnings, and starting today, informations will be filed with local justices of the peace.

The "crackdown" is against use of boxes and cardboard cartons for the disposal of garbage. Sickles said containers must be non-absorbent, water tight and fly tight, and must have handles and be kept clean.

Garbage collectors will be required to make at least two collections weekly during the summer months, the health officer added.

Sesqui-Centennial Of Adams County Court Is Observed At Session Today; 4 Naturalized

One hundred and fifty years ago today the first court was held in Adams county, and the anniversary was observed at the opening of the Adams county court this morning.

"It would seem appropriate to call to the attention of your honorable court this historic occasion," Senator Donald P. McPherson, Jr., a member of the county bar, declared in an address which opened the court's sesqui-centennial observance.

"The newly formed county of Adams was a part of the second judicial district which at that time comprised the counties of Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Lancaster, York and Adams," Senator McPherson said.

"The original court house had not yet been built, so the first court was held in one of the rooms in Gettys tavern which stood on the site just east of the present Gettysburg National bank."

Relates Early Events

Senator McPherson related some of the business of this first court, including the fact that there were three associate judges. Joseph Henry of York was president judge William Gilliland, John Agnew and William Scott were Adams county associates.

The first court house was built in the square, and the total cost of both court house and jail was $9,802.70. The "new" court house was authorized in 1858 and erected at a cost of a little over $15,000.

"The history of this court truly reflects the history of Adams county," Senator McPherson concluded.

Attorney Donald M. Swope presented a list of the judicial districts

TIGERS TRIM BOSOX TWICE; CARDS WIN PAIR

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

"The Red Sox won't win the pennant this year," the man said. "They fold up against the strong clubs."

The man was a Boston baseball writer. The remark was made right after Boston had buried the poor St. Louis Browns under a record shattering 29-4 count last Thursday.

Fold probably is the wrong word but there is no denying the Red Sox have had miserable luck against the first division clubs this season. In 23 games against the Yankees, Tigers and Cleveland Indians, the Sox have won nine and lost 14. That's a cellarlike 39.4 percentage.

Loss Pair to Detroit

Red Rolfe's Tigers heaped insult on injury yesterday.

On Southpaw Hal Newhouse scattered 10 hits to beat Boston, 6-2, in the opener. Lefty Ted Gray allowed only four hits in nine innings of sterling relief ball, to gain credit for the 9-6 triumph in the second game.

The defeat was the fourth in a row for the third place Red Sox who now are six games behind the Yankees and five and a half behind Detroit. The Yanks kept pace with Detroit by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from the Browns, 1-0 and 4-2.

St. Louis' soaring Cardinals widened their first place margin in the National league to two games over Brooklyn by crushing the New York Giants twice, 6-1 and 5-2. The best the Dodgers could do was divide a pair with the Reds in Cincinnati. The Browns won the opener, 5-4, but the Reds came back to win the nightcap, 8-5.

Phillies Split

Philadelphia's third place Phillies remained a half game behind Brooklyn, splitting a pair with the Pirates in Pittsburgh. The Phils came from behind with five runs in the eighth against Rookie Vern Law to win the first game, 7-6, but the Pirates took the second, 5-4, on Ralph Kiner's 13th homerun of the season.

Chicago's Cubs tied Boston for fourth place, defeating the Braves twice in Chicago, 5-4, in 10 innings and 2-1. The White Sox, Chicago's American league entry, also won two games, whipping the Senators in Washington, 8-3 and 5-4.

Cleveland and the Athletics divided a doubleheader in Philadelphia. Three runs in the 10th enabled the Indians to win the first game, 6-3. A seven-run seventh inning won the second for Philadelphia, 9-6.

First Yankee Shutout

A near-sellout crowd of 34,906 saw Newhouse and Dobson duel evenly for seven innings of the opener, but the Tigers broke a 2-2 deadlock in the eighth and added three more in the ninth to give Newhouse his fifth victory and Dobson his fourth defeat.

Fred Hutchinson was the Tiger starter in the second game. He was clobbered for eight hits and five runs in five innings. Gray took over after Detroit had fallen three times in the fifth to knot the score at 5-5. Each team scored once in the seventh. Thereafter Gray and Parnell, Boston's sole hurler, pitched goose eggs until Vic Wertz homered in the 14th. It was Gray's sixth triumph and Parnell's fifth loss.

Vic Raschi and Fred Sanford turned in fine pitching performances for the Yankees. Raschi yielded only three hits in hurling his first shutout and seventh triumph.

Bob Lemon pitched his seventh triumph for Cleveland. Tenth inning homers by Al Rosen and Jim Hegar off Bobby Shantz were the winning blows.

The double triumph by the White Sox ended a seven game victory string of the Senators against Chicago. Ray Scarborough, ex-Senator, was clipped for 11 hits but staggered through for his fifth win in the nightcap.

Lefties Howie Pollet and Alpha Brazie pitched the Cards to their 10th straight win over the Giants before the largest crowd in four years—33,853 fans.

Don Newcombe gained his sixth triumph for Brooklyn in the opener against the Reds. A six-run Cincinnati helped Ewell Blackwell gain his fourth victory in the nightcap.

HOGAN SHOOTS 69 IN PLAYOFF TO WIN TITLE

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 12 (AP)—Some day soon, Bobby Feller will join the very select list of pitchers who have won 200 games.

If there hadn't been a war, he probably would be in the 13th 300-game winner. In three seasons before he joined the navy, Bobby showed 24, 27 and 25 victories. In his first full season after he came back—1946—he won 26. It's more than reasonable to assume that Feller, at his fireball pitching peak, could have matched those figures, or at least collected 100 victories in those four seasons.

Especially against that weak wartime hitting. It's difficult to think of Feller, the speed pitcher, as becoming a cagy veteran. But he's nearly 32, and Marsh Samuel, the Indians' publicity man, points out that one of Bob's assets now is his knack of making the batters foul off good pitches.

When he has control, he keeps them fouling until they finally swing at a bad one or let a good one go past—and there's another guy out.

AN IM-POSITION

Some of the golf pros were exchanging hard luck tales at lunch during the Open at Ardmore, and Eke Riegel related a series of hair-raising experiences with the slick greens. "Oh, well, that's the course," he concluded. Lloyd Mangrum needed gently. "Sure, that was the course, not you; you're a fine golfer." Riegel put on a serious look and agreed: "It wasn't me. I always was in perfect position for a bogey or double bogey."

JUST A YOUNG MAN'S GAME

Dave Williams, three-time golf champion of Chicago's Medinah club, will be 70 years old in August.

But he's serving his sixth term as handicapper committee chairman to make sure the younger lads don't gang up on him. Dave didn't take up golf until he was over 40, and entered his first tournament at 51.

He won his third club title at 64 and figures he's good for a few more attempts.

The Red Birds handed a double shelling to the front running Hagerstown Braves yesterday to move into third place, 10½ games out of first and five in back of the runner-up Wilmington Blue Rocks.

The Cardinals took the first game 10-9 and the nightcap 12-10. Wilmington had to be content with a split with the Sunbury Athletics, winning the first game 3-2 and losing the nightcap by the same 3-2 score.

Harrisburg eked out a 4-3 win in the afterpiece after Trenton had taken the opener 14-4. York right-hander Wal Crenshaw pitched a two-hitter in the opener to win 5-2 over Lancaster. In the nightcap, lefty Bob Ludwig held York to four scattered singles and was never in trouble as he triumphed 4-0.

Tonight's schedule: Lancaster at Trenton, Harrisburg at Hagerstown, Sunbury at York and Allentown at Wilmington.

AN IM-POSITION

Some of the golf pros were exchanging hard luck tales at lunch during the Open at Ardmore, and Eke Riegel related a series of hair-raising experiences with the slick greens. "Oh, well, that's the course," he concluded. Lloyd Mangrum needed gently. "Sure, that was the course, not you; you're a fine golfer." Riegel put on a serious look and agreed: "It wasn't me. I always was in perfect position for a bogey or double bogey."

JUST A YOUNG MAN'S GAME

Dave Williams, three-time golf champion of Chicago's Medinah club, will be 70 years old in August.

But he's serving his sixth term as handicapper committee chairman to make sure the younger lads don't gang up on him. Dave didn't take up golf until he was over 40, and entered his first tournament at 51.

He won his third club title at 64 and figures he's good for a few more attempts.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Accident: On Wednesday evening, George Wilson, son of William B.
Wilson, of Menallen township, aged about 20 years, whilst watering horses, was kicked just above the right eye, causing compound fracture and depression of bone. The shattered fragments of bone were removed, but little hopes of his recovery are entertained. This should prove a warning to those having the management of horses, and especially to the young, who are apt to be too careless on such occasions.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MISJUDGMENTS

All of us are misjudged at times.
Deceiving into the thoughts of the human mind, and into the feelings of the heart, is always unwise, for only God can see there. Under such circumstances, it is best to offer no defense, for one's acts and life are the answer, and there are those who have not the ability accurately to see and judge.

You will recall that during the examination of Jesus by Pilate he was unjustly accused—but it is recorded that "he answered not a word." This great Teacher suggested a way of life that is both safe and just when he gave the admonition that we should "judge not" that we might not be judged. Also, he admonished that we should disregard the mote in another's eye while a beam existed in our own.

There is an old adage that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones. It is something to bear in mind. Who are we, anyway, that we should judge another? Better to devote our thoughts to the discovery of good and fine qualities in another, and give generous praise to that one. Such an act is uplifting all around. It makes both feel good.

The temptation, when openly mis-judged, is to answer back, or resent an insinuation, but silence is the better way. Character is the by asserted. Have you ever noted a big dog passing along the street with several little dogs barking and snapping at its heels, but with the big dog, uncaring, going its way? We can never learn from dumb animals!
Intelligent understanding is the secret of all lasting friendships. In marriage it is an essential. We can overlook so much in those we love.
If we didn't, all those fine qualities and secrets within that one would not be so genuinely displayed before us to our profit and satisfaction. The moment we begin to misjudge, criticize, or humiliate another, we begin to lose that one's affection and interest. And we shrink in character stature, as well.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Getting a Job."

Rickenbacker Says Flying Saucers Real

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12 (AP)— Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World War I ace, says he thinks flying saucers are real.

Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines, flew in yesterday and told a reporter: "Too many good men have seen them. And if they exist, you can bet they belong to the United Air Force."

Air officials have insisted they have no such equipment.

On Monday Jacob Craig was arrested and put under bail to answer the charge of shooting one of the boys of the Orphans Homestead. It seems that on Saturday, as Craig was passing the grounds of the Homestead on his way to town, the boys began to stone him. Returning to his house, he got a shot gun and as he reached the spot where the stoning took place, he fired over the fence—his purpose, as he explains it, being to frighten the lads. A shot struck one of the boys on the forehead, but fortunately did not penetrate, making but a slight abrasion of the skin. Boys should not throw stones, and men should not recklessly use shot guns.

trict Deputy Grand Sachem of the

FOUR DIE WHEN BOAT GOES OVER RIVER SPILLWAY

Pittsburgh, June 12 (AP)—The raging waters of an Allegheny river spillway took four lives yesterday but rivermen who refused to quit rescue efforts in the face of terrifying odds pulled four others to safety.

One riverman, 50-year-old Hull Wright, died a hero. He tried desperately to save six persons who rode over a 11-foot dam in a 25-foot cabin cruiser 15 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

The four who survived a night of horror were battered and beaten.
They clung to the cruiser as it bobbed in the foaming, swirling spillway. For seven hours they watched scores of rescue attempts fail. A blimp, a seaplane and even men in a rowboat tried to reach them.

Just as it seemed their cruiser would capsize, they were pulled to safety by the volunteer crew of a small river towboat piloted by a veteran skipper who willingly took his chance with fate. He won his gamble—and lost his boat as it overturned in the maelstrom.

Rescue Boat Smashed

There were six on the cruiser when it missed a lock and went over the dam.

Wright and his boss, Veteran Lockmaster James Woffenden, went to their rescue in an 18-foot skiff.
The small craft was smashed to pieces and Woffenden and Wright jumped to the cruiser.

Then, one by one, the four who perished began going overboard.
Woffenden declared: "It was a nightmare. . . I tried to get everybody to hang on tight and wait for help but it wasn't long before one of the women was swept overboard.
The next was Hull. Then another woman fell in. Finally a man disappeared. That left four of us."

Husband Rescued, Wife Lost

Authorities listed the lost, in addition to Wright, as: Mrs. William Fisher, 29; Mrs. Carol Kreig, about 30, wife of one of the rescued, and William Lahey, Jr., about 25.

The rescued were Woffenden, James McHugh, 24, owner of the cruiser; Charles Heilley, 34, and Jack Kreig, 28.

All but McHugh and Lahey were residents of the Pittsburgh area.
McHugh, son of the head of a Chicago construction firm, has been employed on a building project here.
Lahey, also from Chicago, worked for the firm and lived with McHugh.
"I've lost my wife, I've lost my wife," muttered Kreig as he was carried to a stretcher. Then he cried unashamedly until given a sedative.

DEDICATE NEW HALL AT WILSON

Chambersburg, Pa., June 12 (AP)— A new $300,000 student-alumnae center, Laird hall, was formally dedicated at Wilson college here Saturday.

Fifty-seven classes, from 1887 to 1949, were represented in a delegation of more than 500 alumnae who returned to the campus for the ceremony.

Dr. John B. Laird, of Philadelphia, 84-year-old president emeritus of the Wilson board of trustees, for whom the building is named, was guest of honor.

H. W. Prentiss, Jr., of Lancaster, president of Wilson trustees and chairman of the Armstrong Cork company board of directors, accepted the center in behalf of the college from Mrs. William Bennett, of Harrisburg, co-chairman of the alumnae committee which raised funds for the building.

The college also announced Mrs.

2200 Graduated At Penn State

State College, Pa., June 12 (AP)— The Pennsylvania State college today held its second twin-shift graduation as it awarded degrees to 2,200 students—largest class in the school's 95-year history.

Two separate commencement exercises—one in the morning and another in the afternoon—were scheduled to handle the class of 1800 men and 340 women undergraduates. Some 1,250 of them were World War II veterans.

The previous high of 1,700 was graduated last year.
Meanwhile, James Milholland, acting college president, was re-elected president of the board of trustees and two other trustees started new terms.

GOP TO REJECT DEBATE OFFER

Harrisburg, June 12 (AP)—Republicans were ready today to douse cold water on a Democrat's idea for a series of debates during the fall election campaign.

Former Judge John S. Fine, Republican gubernatorial nominee, indicated he would not accept the week-old challenge of his Democratic opponent, Richardson Dil-worth.

"It's too hot to even talk about anything like that," he told a newsman. The sweltering week-end weather provided the background for his statement.

M. Harvey Taylor, elected to a sixth term as state chairman by the Republican statecommittee at Philadelphia Saturday, also showed a reluctance to consider the Dilworth debate proposal.

They apparently took a cue from the refusal of Gov. James H. Duff to take to the platform against Congressman John C. Kunkel, Harrisburg, in the GOP primary battle for the U.S. senatorial nomination.
Dilworth, Philadelphia city treasurer, had suggested a series of eight debates in September and October under the sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers association. "There is, of course, no better way to judge a candidate, or his principles, than in open debate," the Democratic gubernatorial nominee said.

NEWMAN-BAIR WEDDING HELD ON SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown, Miss Mary Jane Bair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Bair, Littlestown, R. 2, became the bride of John S. Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Newman, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends by the Rev. Paul L. Fouk, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Hanover, an uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of the church and pastor of the bride. The church was decorated with gladioli, ferns and cut flowers.

Preceding the ceremony, a 15-minute organ recital was presented by Mrs. Luther Myers, church organist, who also played "Ave Maria" during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were played. Stewart N. Long, Littlestown, was soloist and sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white slipper satin with a high marquisee neckline and a low French self bertha of imported lace trimmed in various designs of seed pearls.
Her bodice was tight-fitting with a full skirt ending in a long train.
The traditional leg-o-mutton sleeves ended in points over the hand, and her nylon finger-tip length veil was fastened with a headress of orange blossoms. She carried a bou-quet of white summer flowers centered with an orchid.

In Wedding Party
Mrs. Theron Bair, Littlestown, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of orchid marquisette over satin.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Herman Newman, Littlestown, sister-in-law of the bridegroom and Miss Joyce Myers, York, college classmate of the bride. They wore gowns of Nile green marquisette over satin. All gowns were fashioned after the bride's. All members of the bridal party wore matching mitts and coronets of summer flowers and carried colonial bouquets of summer flowers.

The flower girl was Miss Shirley Bair, Littlestown, niece of the bride.
Her gown was yellow organza styled after the bride's. She carried a basket of cut flowers and wore a coronet of summer flowers. Dale Bair, Littlestown, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer. He carried the rings on a heart shaped satin pillow trimmed with lace and ribbon.

Herman Newman, Littlestown, brother of the groom, was best man. Serving as ushers were Glenn Bair, United States Navy, brother of the bride, and Arthur Fry, Westminster.

Reception Held

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the social room of the church for approximately 150 guests. The couple were the recipients of many gifts.

Following the reception, the newly weds left on a two week's trip.
For her traveling costume, the bride

Says Woman Taught Children To Steal

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—Accused by two young girls of operating a school for crime, Mrs. Lillian Pollack, 32, was under $1,500 bail today for the grand jury.

The woman was ordered held at a hearing before Magistrate Keller H. Gilbert yesterday during which she denied she had other children shoplifting for her as testified by one of the girls.

Magistrate Gilbert set bail at $800 on a charge of conspiracy to commit larceny and $700 on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

The two girls, ages 12 and 13, testified Mrs. Pollack approached them about a year ago and offered 1945 and received her bachelor of science degree at Shippensburg State Teachers' college in 1949. She is an elementary teacher in the Hanover public schools. The groom also graduated from Littlestown high school in the class of 1945, and served 20 months in the U. S. armed forces. At present, he is manager of Baughner's restaurant, Westminster.

SUMMON JAFFE IN SENATE QUIZ ON AMERASIA

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Senators hunting jigsaw pieces in the 1945 Amerasia case turned to Philip Jaffe today for more of the picture in the secret documents episode.

Jaffe, subpoenaed to a closed session (1:30 p.m., E.S.T.) of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, is a key figure in the five-year-old controversial case.

He was editor of the now-defunct Amerasia magazine, in the New York headquarters of which were found hundreds of confidential government papers.

Jaffe was fined $2,500. One of the others pleaded no defense and paid a $500 fine. Charges against the other four were dropped.

Why that happened; why there was no jail sentences; why the charges were reduced—all those points stirred up a controversy in Congress and brought a cry of "whitewash" from some legislators.

Justice Department officials have said their case practically collapsed when one of the defendants learned that the government's evidence was obtained without search warrants.

Wait Forrestal Papers
The Senate inquiry committee trying to find the answers summoned Jaffe as it awaited certain excerpts from the personal papers of the late James V. Forrestal, who was Secretary of the Navy when the Amerasia case broke.

The Justice Department confirmed Saturday that Forrestal intervened to postpone the six arrests until President Truman could be fully informed. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told the Milwaukee Sentinel yesterday: "At no time did Forrestal ever indicate a desire to have the Amerasia case held up or stopped."

x x x All Forrestal asked was that the President be advised of the facts in the case before the arrests were made.

The Justice Department made public notes from Forrestal's diary which disclosed he felt the arrests might "greatly embarrass" this country's relations with Russia at the 1945 United Nations Charter conference in San Francisco.

Littlestown—The monthly meeting of the Abigail Kammerer Missionary society of St. Paul's Lutheran church was held Wednesday evening in the church with Mrs. L. Robert Snyder as the leader. Opening devotions consisted of a scripture lesson by Mrs. Charles Ritter and prayers by the leader and Mrs. Robert Mayers. The topic was "The Lutheran Church in British Guinea."

After a brief history of British Guinea by Mrs. Snyder, the following readings on the topic were given: "Tiliteracy," Mrs. George Schaefer; "Poverty," Mrs. H. Dean Stover; "Acceptance of Christianity," Mrs. John H. Riley; "Ignorance and Superstition," Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon, and "Keeping Family Life," Mrs. Paul Kammerer.

Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Mahlon Bucher. She read a letter announcing the 24th annual congress of Group B of the Young People's Missionary society of the Central Pennsylvania Synod in Messiah Lutheran church, York, on June 17. A speaker at this congress will be Miss Christie Zimmerman, a missionary to India.

Miss Zimmerman is a native of Selinsgrove, Pa., and was a Sunday school pupil of Mrs. David S. Kammerer in Trinity Lutheran church, Selinsgrove, when the Rev. Mr. Kammerer, now pastor of St. Paul's church, was a student at Susquehanna seminary.

The birthdays of Mrs. Paul Kammerer, Mrs. Robert Mayers and Mrs. Donald Lemmon were celebrated. Mrs. Stover donated a guess package

TRUMAN TALK STIRS CONGRESS

Washington, June 12 (AP)—President Truman's assertion that Russia is preparing for war stepped up congressional efforts today to get this nation's defense ready for any crisis.

At the same time, however, two Republican senators suggested that Mr. Truman's blunt talk about Soviet intentions abroad may be aimed in part at minimizing public attention to the Communists-in-government charges of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) and others.

GOP Senators Wherry of Nebraska and Brewster of Maine said they don't disagree with the President's Saturday statement in St. Louis that the Soviet's "have preached peace—but devoted their energies to fomenting aggression and preparing for war."

But Wherry, the senate Republican leader, noted that the President had nothing to say about subversive activity at home.

"It is just as important to clear out the Communists in our government as it is to stop their expansion abroad," Wherry declared.

Brewster said it seems to him Mr. Truman has been dwelling on Communist threats in the foreign field almost to the exclusion of any similar dangers at home.

"It may be a campaign to take the people's mind off of the McCarthy charges and similar affairs," Brewster said. He is chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign committee.

Use This Routine to Help Seeds Grow in Hot Weather

It is impossible to get efficient production from the home vegetable garden without making several sowings of short harvest vegetables; and this requires the "know how" of starting seeds in hot, dry weather.

It is easy to do, but requires more care than many amateurs give to spring sowing. Seedlings must have moist soil, and a porous covering from which their sprouts can easily emerge, but if left to the mercy of the hot sun they may quickly be dried out, or imprisoned by a baked crust of soil above them.

To prevent this, make a drill deeper than you would use in the spring, so the seeds lie closer to the soil water. Fill the drill with water, so it soaks into the soil for several inches. Mix the seed with sand and sow evenly on the damp soil.

Now cover the seeds with a special mixture of porous soil, prepared by mixing sifted top soil. Cover the seed with this, and then soak it with a sprinkling can or fine spray from the hose.

Until the seeds germinate, the soil above them should not be allowed to dry out. The special soil mixture will not form a crust, but it may help keep it moist to shade it, or cover with a light mulch. Shade by narrow boards held on blocks an inch above the surface, to allow free circulation of air; by covering with burlap, or cover with a mulch of lawn clippings, or similar material. If the boards, or burlap are used, they should be removed immediately the seeds sprout. The rows should be kept moist until the seedlings are well established.

By these methods any vegetable seed can be germinated. Lettuce is likely to give the most trouble, and if it does, spread the seeds on a damp towel, roll it up and place in the refrigerator for twenty-four hours. Then remove, dry the seed and sow. The chill will usually speed germination.

Need for these precautions against crust formation is increased rather than lessened by frequent rains. In soils containing any clay sunshine after a beating rain will bake the surface to the hardness of brick in a short time. Similar methods should be used in covering or shading flower seeds which are sown in hot weather.

DEGREE FOR DOOLITTLE
Waynesburg, Pa., June 12. (AP)—The man who led the first United States bomb attack on Tokyo received an honorary degree of "doctor of military strategy" from Waynesburg college yesterday. He is former Lieutenant General James H. Doolittle who commanded the bombers which took off from an aircraft carrier in 1942 to bomb the Japanese capital. Doolittle is now a vice president of Shell Oil company.

Prevention Of Pea Diseases

Many vegetable growers are reporting more or less severe outbreaks of diseases in garden peas this spring. Those unable to diagnose their troubles accurately merely state their peas are suffering from blight. Others furnish the editor details of symptoms which permit positive identification of the disease. Inasmuch as garden peas in this region may be attacked by any or all of five common diseases, gardeners should seek and study information to enable them to control or prevent losses. Below are some helpful details.

Bacterial Blight—This disease is more destructive during rainy, humid periods. All portions of the plant above the ground are affected. Large water-soaked spots appear on the pods; the lesions on the leaves are somewhat darker and more irregular. Even the stems may show spots. If the weather continues humid, the lesions usually exude a cream-colored slime. Hot, dry weather may halt the spread and cause affected tissues, especially those of the leaves, to turn dry and brownish. There are no sprays to control bacterial blight of peas. Infection is carried from year to year in and on the seed. The only known means of prevention is to use fresh seed each year which has been grown in the dry or irrigated regions of the west.

Pod-spot is sometimes more accurately called Ascochyta blight. It is a fungus disease, carried over from year to year on the seed and in infected plant refuse left in the garden. Symptoms first visible include irregular, light-colored spots on the pods, these distinguished by darker margins. Spots on the leaves show distinct concentric (circle within circle) circles with dark spots in their centers. Stems are usually spotted near the ground. Sometimes the leaf spots are small and purplish and irregular in shape. The pod spots are sunken and show no concentric markings. Like bacterial blight, pod-spot is more severe in rainy, humid seasons. No sprays are effective to prevent or control this disease. It is believed all pea seed grown east of the Mississippi River is subject to the disease. Three steps in prevention are stressed: (1) Practice long rotation between pea crops; (2) Burn or feed all pea refuse before winter; (3) Buy seed grown in semi-arid regions of the west.

Fusarium wilt, another fungus disease, is soil-borne. Leaves of a few scattered plants may turn yellow, wilt and drop, with badly infected plants dying. Lower leaves are first only preventive measures.

Sometimes pea seed decays before or during germination, often in cool, moist weather. Treating seed with Spergon or Arasan will aid greatly in reducing this fungous trouble.

The editor will be glad to assist readers in solving their pea disease problems if details are furnished, particularly a description of symptoms on leaves, pods, and stems.

Prohibition Party Nominates Slate

DuBois, Pa., June 12. (AP)—The Prohibition party has nominated Dr. Richard R. Blew of DuBois as its candidate for governor of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Blew, district superintendent of the Free Methodist church, said the party plans a convention in Pittsburgh. Dr. Blew said the party's slate includes:

U. S. Senator, Earl N. Bergerstock, of York; lieutenant governor, Albert J. Crispell, Nosen; secretary of internal affairs, Charles E. Wunderly, Penn Argy; and judge of supreme court, Charles Palmer, Ridley Park.

CONFER AGAIN IN MILK STRIKE

Pittsburgh, June 12. (AP)—Representatives of striking dairy workers and their employers will try again today to bring an end to the walk-out that has shut off the milk supply of 2,300,000 persons in western Pennsylvania.

The strike was called by members of the AFL-Dairy Workers Union which began last Friday against firms belonging to the Greater Pittsburgh Milk Dealers association.

A number of contracts are involved, the association said. The drivers are seeking a 40-hour week instead of the present 48-hour week at the same rate of pay. The drivers also are asking for a raise in the daily guarantee from $10 to $13.50. The dealers offered $11.

A six-hour conference yesterday failed to bring a settlement but negotiators said they would meet again today. The association again advanced arbitration as a solution but the union declined.

The Allegheny County Medical Society said the number of trucks delivering milk to hospitals and other vital spots had tripled yesterday over Saturday.

Seven counties, including populous Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county, are affected by the strike.

Center of the Dutch bulb industry is the sandy, irrigated area between Leiden and Haarlem.

Harrisburg, June 12 (AP) — Postal

Three hundred delegates attending the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Post-office Clerks adopted a resolution yesterday protesting the curtailed mail service.

How Mr. Boh Became a "National" Favorite!

The score was tied, the crowd was tense. Could "Boh" come thru and clear the fence?

"Sock it!" they cried as "Boh" came to the plate. Then he started to swing like a rusty gate.

Now as then when they hear the name, the fans still rise and cheer, not only for "Boh" the slugger but for National Bohemian Beer!

"Boh" was certainly upon the spot, but suddenly he found his mark. He scored the winning run that day by knocking it out of the park.

The second ball pitched was again in the groove, but it came so fast "Boh" couldn't move.
